2023 Annual Conference Sponsorship Information

Why Sponsor?

Put your products and services in front of the best and brightest minds in Alaskan water resources. The Alaska Section of the American Water Resources Association (AWRA) 2023 Annual Conference provides a rare opportunity for your organization to put your products and services in front of the many water resource professionals and stakeholders gathering to discuss the unique challenges associated with maintaining and managing Alaska's many hydrologic resources.

Who Attends?

Attendance at the annual joint conference is expected to be in the range of 30-50 water-resources professionals. Show off your products and services to a targeted audience of participants from:

- ✓ Federal/state/local/Tribal governments
- ✓ Educational/research/nonprofit institutions
- ✓ Water-use industries/consulting firms

Our Attendees Include:

Engineers | Educators | Economists | Planners | Foresters | Biologists | Soil Scientists | Ecologists
Geographers | Chemists | Managers | Regulators | Physicists | Hydrologists | Geologists | Tribal Leaders |
Resource Managers | Limnologists | Attorneys | GIS Professionals | Students

Reach attendees at the Annual Conference and beyond with:

Online – Your logo on the Alaska Section AWRA conference web pages.

Final Program Book – Your logo printed in the Final Program.

Onsite Signage – Your logo will appear on sponsor recognition signage and sponsored events (as appropriate).

Strengthen your prominence as a leader and supporter of water resources management and reinforce your visibility among Alaska environmental professionals.

Be Seen - Your organization/corporate identity will be instantly recognized as an active friend of the water resources community.

We fit your Budget - Select the level of sponsorship that capitalizes on the kind of visibility you are looking for among the diverse audience of government, private, academic and nonprofit sectors.
